

UNION-ENDICOTT 50, HORSEHEADS 13

U-E's fast start buries Raiders

Tigers score four quick touchdowns

By Kevin Stevens
kstevens@gannett.com

ENDICOTT — Union-Endicott turned four of its first 14 offensive plays into touchdowns Saturday night and proceeded to a 50-13 romp past overmatched Horseheads in Division II of the Section 4 Football Conference.

Through three snaps of the football, the Tigers had scoring runs of 59 yards by Dan Davis and 46 yards by Sammy Davis Jr. — Bash and Dash, respectively.

Oh, as for the latter? Pulling guard Josh Paugh is virtually guaranteed a standing ovation and half-a-dozen re-winds in the film room. Six-foot-2 and 250 pounds on the move inflicted maximum punishment to help spring his fleet buddy for the score.

The Davis Two went on to log 221 rushing yards on a collective 10 carries — all

ON PAGES 6-7F

» M-E blows past Owego.
» CV, Windsor romp.

ON THE WEB

» For more coverage and statistics, go to pressconnects.com/sports and usatodayhighschoolsports.com in the first half — as the Tigers (3-0, 1-0) improved their per-game scoring average to 41.7.

See TIGERS, Page 6F

Union-Endicott's Hezekiah Morgan is chased by Horseheads' Mitchell Elliott on a punt return. KRISTOPHER RADDER / STAFF PHOTO

ERIC REMZA
on the summit of Mount McKinley in Alaska. For more photos of Remza, go to pressconnects.com/photogalleries
PROVIDED PHOTO

top prize

VESTAL GRADUATE ERIC REMZA'S CHILDHOOD DREAMS PAVE THE WAY FOR A GLOBE-TROTTING CAREER AND PLACE HIM AMONG ELITE CLIMBERS

By Kevin Hogan | khogan@gannett.com

His ascent toward some of mountaineering's greatest achievements didn't begin with a specific goal. Rather, as Eric Remza tells it, a seed was planted at Vestal High School. Daniel Bursch, an astronaut whose picture was among the first to adorn the Golden Bear Hall of Fame, visited the school and left at least one student star-struck. "In a way it was almost like this full-circle experience because I was so inspired by this astronaut," Remza said 20 years later, a couple of weeks after helping guide a second expedition to Mount Everest. "At a young age I wanted to be an astronaut myself and climbing Everest or climbing an 8,000-meter peak is obviously the closest thing you can get to outer space." Remza graduated in 1993 and began a journey that has taken him from Apalachin to the Adirondacks and on to Africa and Antarctica. To boot, he does it for a living, leading or aiding expeditions as a mountain guide. To top it off, he is one trip to Russia and a climb to 18,510 feet above sea level from completing the Seven Summits. Reaching the top of Mount Elbrus would

See REMZA, Page 9F

QUEST FOR THE SEVEN SUMMITS

Eric Remza has reached the highest point on six continents. The only peak he hasn't reached is the 18,510 foot Mount Elbrus in Russia.

Mountain (country), height in feet	Summits	First	Last
Carstensz Pyramid (Indonesia) 16,023	1	2011	—
Kilimanjaro (Tanzania) 19,340	4	2010	2011
Vinson Massif (Antarctica) 16,067	1	2010	—
Everest (Nepal) 29,035	1	2007	—
Aconcagua (Argentina) 22,841	12	2001	2011
McKinley (Alaska) 20,320	7	2001	2008

YANKEES 5, RAYS 3

Nova returns; Yanks top Rays

By Mike Fitzpatrick
Associated Press

NEW YORK — Some critical reinforcements are still on the way for the New York Yankees. With the AL East race up for grabs, they would be thrilled if those players are as sharp as Ivan Nova when they get back.

Nova was downright nasty in his return from a shoulder injury and New York got back-to-back home runs from Curtis Granderson and Eduardo Nunez in a 5-3 victory over the Tampa Bay Rays on Saturday.

"Even though he hadn't pitched a lot, you could see where his endurance level was, where his velocity was, the deception on his pitches," Granderson said. "He did an excellent job for us."

Derek Jeter and Alex Rodriguez each had an RBI single for the Yankees, who began the day tied with Baltimore atop the division standings. The Orioles were scheduled to play later in Oakland.

Evan Longoria homered for the third-place Rays, who fell four games behind New York with 17 to play.

"We don't have a lot of time," Longoria said.

One day after Yankees ace CC Sabathia lost his third straight decision, Nova out-pitched James Shields and gave New York's rotation a nice boost. David Robertson worked

See YANKEES, Page 11F

Stony Brook's Davonnet Anderson tackles Syracuse's Marcus Sales. ASSOCIATED PRESS

SU AVOIDS UPSET

After a slow start, the Orange rallies and holds off pesky Stony Brook. PAGE 3F

ANOTHER LOCKOUT

The NHL and players don't meet before the midnight deadline. PAGE 2F

